makahaun is a black queer DJ and emerging talent in the electronic music scene, based in Münster, Germany. My sound is a reflection of who I am: multifaceted, unapologetic, and deeply personal.

Drawing inspiration from the roots of techno as black music, I blend Detroit techno, steamy breaks, melodic dubby electro, and hypnotic grooves. Each set weaves together raw energy and intimate moments, creating an experience that is both intense and cathartic. As an artist, I aim to challenge norms and build inclusive spaces where everyone can connect and feel empowered. Music is my outlet for self-expression, a means of storytelling, and a way to celebrate my identity. Whether on the dancefloor or through my work, I am committed to using music as a force for connection, transformation, and resistance.
